

Merry Christmas from the Gullmans!

Dad has been taking it a little slower this year. We have spent some time sailing and living in Mexico. If you are looking for a place to stay near Cabo, check out our vacation place at www.harmony4you.com. Let us know if you would like to use it.

Mom is busy doing the daily routines of life. In January I was diagnosed with CML and started a treatment to try to bring the cancer into remission. Needless to say we were not sure for a while if the medication was making me worse or better. After 9 months we had to increase the dosage of medication and it seems to be working now. I deal daily with side effects but am able to do most things with the family if they are not too high energy. Resting in Mexico, swimming at the beach, schooling the kids, has been relaxing and refreshing. It has been a time for me to reflect and change a few of my priorities.

David and Jonathan work at MSB (msbtech.com). Rachel and Jared have moved to Waco, Tx. where she is teaching 1st grade. They bought their first home and are busy settling in. You can pray for her as she has her hands full in the classroom with 19 kids some of whom are quite a challenge to teach. Julie is in her last year at Azusa Pacific University. Jonathan, David, Daniel and Roger and Dad spent the summer sailing to the Sea of Cortez. Rebecca is still studying at LETU and is engaged to be married. She and Daniel will be married in CA May 24th. Our Daniel graduated from HS in Jan. and took a full semester at Cabrillo College. Then after his summer aboard the boat he went to LETU in his father, mother, brothers and sisters footsteps. He is 17 and will be a junior in college when he goes back in Jan.

Roger became a teenager this year. He was the youngest on the boat and liked his summer adventure. Now he is the oldest at home and is learning to be Dad and Jonathan's helper. Anna is 12 and enjoys talking to her friends and caring for her goats. Robert is now 11 and spent 1/2 his birthday in Mexico and the other 1/2 in the USA. Andrew is a fast moving active 8 year old who keeps both his Dad and Mom on their toes. He dressed up as a dirty clothes basket for Halloween and won a bike for best costume.

Georgia is the baby of the family and is growing up nicely. She has been a great comfort and companion to me over the rough roads of this last year. She has even gotten to be an international dog flying to Mexico for the month.
